EXCELLENT CRAFT & DESIGN

– MADE IN GERMANY

Perfect match

Our kitchens are compatible with a wide range of selected grill and hob manufacturers. But for us, less is more, which is why we concentrate on a few exclusive manufacturers such as Flammkraft. Our standards for ourselves are high. And in the same way, our partners also meet the highest standards in design, functionality and workmanship.

Weatherproof & Robust

We use high-grade stainless steel, weather- and UV-resistant materials, and fittings certified for outdoor use. And our kitchens are at home anywhere in the world, whether in the Arctic, by the sea or in the desert. 365 days a year. For at least 10 years. Guaranteed.

Made in Germany

All our kitchens come pre-assembled from our own production in Germany. Every cut kitchen body, every weld, every tightened screw was done by ourselves.

Modular

Easy to configure and ready for expansion whenever it suits you. Whether kitchen unit or corner solution – our outdoor kitchens can be expanded years later. With no colour difference.

Sustainable

We only use PVC-free materials. And build kitchens that last for decades. And, of course, our outdoor kitchens are fully recyclable.

OUR SELECTION AS UNIQUE AS YOU ARE

Colours work: Restrained. Or elegant.

They create contrasts or blend into their surroundings. To ensure that your BURNOUTLUX is just right for you, we offer you a choice of four different exclusive shades, inspired by colour nuances found in nature. Opt for the light Pure, a tone like chalk cliffs or summer clouds. Or choose Dust, reminiscent of pristine sandy beaches, a variant that harmonises well with any environment. Dawn and Shadow look even a touch classier.

No matter which of the four becomes your favourite:
With a BURNOUTLUX, you can enhance any outdoor area.

STRONGER TOGETHER

We are good friends, both technically enthusiastic, love beautiful design and we like to eat. What else connects us is decades of experience in kitchen construction. We thought: Reason enough to do something together. But what? Okay, kitchen was obvious, but frankly, there are plenty of good kitchens out there! But the surprising thing was there was really no outdoor kitchen that could withstand all weathers, not rust, offer all the components that are also available in an indoor kitchen, fit to the millimetre and stay that way, look great, function great and remain just as beautiful at minus 20 or plus 40 degrees as on the first day. Challenge accepted! After 4 years of searching for the best materials, 1,000 design drafts, testing hundreds of different components and devices, the time had come: BURNOUTLUX was born and continues to develop!

We produce in Germany. Because we are at home here. And because we want to see and know exactly what is used for our outdoor kitchens. Stainless steel that is high-quality and resistant.

Kitchen materials that are easy to clean and withstand all weathers. Pull-out systems that we developed with one of the leading manufacturers specifically for outdoor use.

Our BURNOUT kitchens are partly machine-made, partly hand-made. Where the highest industrial precision is required, we use the most modern machines in furniture construction. When it comes to sensitive work with the welding equipment, specialists lend a hand themselves. In the end, it's the mix of industry and manufacture that makes it. It creates a kitchen that reflects the passion we put into developing it. A kitchen that makes you realise it is the sum of many years of experience.
